ALEXANDRIAN MADE PRESIDENT

Robert S. Barrett Elected Head of Virginia Press Association

J. T. GRAVES'S SPEECH

Resolutions of Organization Call Upon Congressman to Strengthen National Defenses.

Newport News, July 17.—Robert S. Barrett, editor of the Alexandria Gazette, was elected president of the Virginia press association here today.

The constitution was amended to admit District of Columbia newspaper men to membership; also providing for two annual meetings, one for business in winter and the second for pleasure in the summer. The present has been the largest and most successful meeting in the history of the association. The association will adjourn today after a banquet at Hotel Warwick.

Newport News Va., July 17—Stressing the necessity of preparadness for war, and urging the creation of an American merchant marine, John Temple Graves, of New York, last night addressed the members of the Virginia Press Association and hundreds of citizens of Newport News at the Olympic Theater, Mr. Graves was introduced by S. Gordon ummings, of Hampton, an old schoolmate of the noted editor. After paying a tribute to the men and women who worked for the Jamestown Exposition, which Mr. Graves said, had spread the fame of Tidewater Virginia throughout the world, and resulted in new industrial life in the Commonwealth, Mr. Graves delved into the question of the needs of greater defense for America.

"I think this land of peace," he said, "a republic of peace-loving men and women, and I think we have in our minds no greater hope than that this country of ours shall always be the conserver of our own peace, and the preserver of the peace of all countries. Yet we stand to-day face to face with the bloodiest contradiction of the principle of peace in the world's history. No man less than a constitutional and crimnal outimist can fail to see that we live in the midst of sufficient apprehension and danger, and that we are not any more exempt from war than any other country is exempt from war."

Declaring that peace treaties would not preserve peace of the world, and that nothing less than preparedness will preserve the peace of the United States and of the world, Mr. Graves stated that the United States needs an army for the national defense, a navy of greater strength, and merchant marine flying the Stars and Stripes.

Following the address, resolutions were passed calling upon the Virginia Representatives in Congress to work at the next session for the upbuilding of the navy and the creation of a merchant marine.

The address of Mr Graves and a crab feast at the Elks' Home closed the second day's session of the Virginia Press Association.

GERMANY AND TURKEY

Animosity of Turks to Teutons Reported

Milan, Italy, July 17—Dispatches from Bucharest state that the departure of the German Ambassador from Constantinople, for which the pretext was "reasons of health," was really due to a violent discussion which he had had with Enver Pasha and also with Gen. von der Goltz, and Gen Limon von Sanders that the early fall of Constantinople was expected. Information from trustworthy private sources state that the Turks are running short of ammunition.

Great animosity reigns between German officers and Turkish officers and soldiers. The hygienic condition of Constantinople is deplorable. Medicines and ambulance stores of the first necessity are wanted. Bread is getting scarce.

The harvest in Anatolia is mediocre and the Turkish government circles show great anxiety, while the spirit of the army is much depressed. Rumors continue to circulate in Constantinople that the recent death of Count Lutzow, military attache, was not, as reported, due to an automobile accident, but that he was assassinated by Turks.

All secret archives of the German embassy have been sent away from Constantinople under the charge of a naval attache. Telegram from Athens declare economic and military conditions in Turkey are in a desperate condition.

Germany is beginning to distrust the loyalty of the Turks and is unwilling to furnish them with more arms and munitions for fear they may fall into the hands of the allies.

WARSAW OBJECT OF THREE ARMIES

Teutons Troops Strike at Polish City From Three Directions

DNIESTER CROSSED.

Von Hindenburg and Mackensen Work in Concert to Force Muscovites Out of the City.

London, July 17—The Austro-German armies, which now appear to be working in perfect concert as the result of the German organization, are giving the Russians little rest or time to reorganize themselves after their retreat from Galicia.

Simultaneously with the German effort to reach Warsaw, or the Russian lines serving that fortress from the north, the Austrians have attacked along the Dniester and have succeeded in crossing that river at several points, General von Mackensen's army, which doubtless had been waiting for Field Marshal Von Hindenburg to move in the north, has also come to life again and the fighting has been resumed in Southern Poland. In fact, there is fighting of more or less severity all along the Russian front, except in Central Poland, where the Russians are in such strong positions that, in the opinion of military men, it would be impossible to break through.

The Germans claim to have made further progress with their northern operations, but with the Russians retiring it is not likely that the main forces have clashed as yet. The combined operations are the most gigantic yet undertaken, the aim being, according to military experts, to squeeze the Russians out of Warsaw and the great slice of country which they hold to the north, south and east of that city and at the same time to attempt an invasion of Bessarabia.

Berlin, Via. London, July 17—The German forces have crossed the Windau river to the north of Koltinyani, in Courtland, it is announced in the official statement given out by the German Army Headquarters staff.

Vienna, July 17—The following official communication has been issued.

"The fighting on the Dniester is continuing. Russian attempts to repulse our troops on the north bank of the rver by sever counter-attacks have been unsuccessful and we have captured 12 officers, 1,300 men and 3 machine guns."

HAIL CUTS DELAWARE CROPS.

Peach Orchards Practically Ruined And Cornfields Damaged.

Brdigeville, Del., July 17.—Heavy damage was done in the neighborhood of Fredrica Thursday by a severe wind and hail storm The peach orchard of Howard Hudson, oyster revenue collector, was ruined. Mr. Hudson says there is scarcely a peach left on the trees. His corn was cut into ribbons by the hail and his tomato patches severely damaged.

The farms of Howard Wax and Luther Robbins also were struck and heavy damage done. Reports from the stern area indicate that the path of the hail was about half a mile wide.

Concord and Middleford also were visited by the storm and much damage done. Many of the large vineyards were badly cut by hail, cornfields laid flat and young orchards damaged.

WELSH MINERS' STRIKE

Impression That Trouble Will Be Settled During Next Few Days

London, July 17—The day has brought no change in the South Wales coal strike situation. The wet weather, which kept the men indoors prevented the holding of the mass meetings which had been arranged, but a few gatherings took place in small halls, where speakers devoted themselves to attacks on the colliery owners and the press, which is outspoken in condemnation of their action in quitting work.

The executive committee of the South Wales Miners' Federation, most of the members of which are opposed to the strike, came to London yesterday and conferred with Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, who, it is understood, made new proposals for a settlement of the trouble which will be considered at a meeting in the morning.

There is no indication of any weakening on the part of the men, but the impression still prevails that a few days will see an end of the walk-out It is not believed that the introduction of the munitions of war act can force the men to return to work, for it is impossible to bring 150,000 men before the courts to impose fines for contraventing the act. In fact, the resort to this measure is believed rather to have made the situation worse, and the men's demands now include its withdrawal so far as coal mining is concerned.

The supply of coal on hand are sufficient to prevent any embarrassment for a week or more so far as the navy is concerned.

WONDERFUL SUBMARINE

Inventor Claims it Can Cross The Atlantic and Return Without Refueling

Bridgeport, Conn., July 17—A submarine that can cross the Atlantic and return an underwater craft that can travel at 11 miles an hour for 6,000 miles, and perhaps farther, without refueling is the newest achievement of Capt. Simon Lake, inventor of the submarine boat. From a test that has been made of the G-3 the lithe, wierd little craft, which has cost nearly half a million dollars and is now ready for demonstration, can now cross the ocean, sink an enemy's ship if necessary, come back to her home port without touching at a fuel base.

Capt. Lake is certain about his statement.

The first tests of the strange boat were completed yesterday in Long Island Sound. They proved to Capt. Lake that the craft has a cruising capacity of approximately the distance over sea and back.

The boats will cost about $535,000 each and will be equipped with six torpedo tubes.

The regular meeting of Potomac Lodge of Odd Fellows was held last night.

The recently organized baseball team of Alva Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will play the strong team from Fort Myer on the Cardinal Athletic Club grounds in upper King street this afternoon at 4:30.

Herbert C. Knight a bricklayer, working on the new Alexandria High School Building, which is in the progress of construction at the corner of Cameron and West streets, fell yesterday and had his arm broken.

MILITANT WOMEN OFFER THEIR AID

Forty Thousand Visit Lloyd George and Offer to Serve

GREAT ENTHUSIASM.

Feminine Marchers Bear Red, White And Blue—Colors of the Union Jack And of France.

London, July 17—Forty thousand women dressed in red, white and blue colors of the Union Jack and of France, participated this afternoon in the greatest feminine demonstration in England since the days of militantism.

Accompanied by seventy-five brass bands, they marched from the Thames to Trafalgar Square in a patriotic procession to prove to the government that women are ready to "do their bit" to help England win the war.

Tremendous outbursts of cheering greeted the leaders of the pageant a group of the prettiest girls in London, appropriately costumed to represent each of the allies.

Heading the entire procession was a beautiful girl dressed in the national colors of Belgium, and carrying a tattered Belgian flag.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and several other leaders who marched dropped out later and formed a deputation that visited Minister of Munitions Lloyd-George.

Mrs. Pankhurst placed before Lloyd-George figures to show that 40 per cent of the munition workers in Germany are women, and that 75 per cent of all food canned for the Germany army is tinned by women She emphasized that the women munition workers, both in Germany and France, were untrained for the work before the war begun, but have done invaluable work for their countries.

"Our fight for votes for women is a forgotten issue in the national crisis,' said Mrs. Pankhurst. We are willing 'to do our bit' for England by taking our place in thef actories and releasing men for the trenches. We are willing to do any work the government may assign to us, day or night."

Mrs. Pankhurst and her colleagues later rejoined the procession. The parade marched past cheering thousands gathered along Piccadily nad in Trafalgar Square.

"Let women work; shells made by a wife may save her husband's life," read one of the banners arried in the read one of the banners carried in the parade.

"Down with sex prejudice; we are not slackers," read another.

SITUATION IMPROVING

Kaiser Does Not Want Trouble With United States

Washington, July 17—The situation between the United States and Germany over neutral rights at sea and the destruction of the Lusitania is looked on today as slightly improved by reason of the conference between Secretary of State Lansing and Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador.

Chief of the reasons why it is improved is that the talk of the German ambassador in his meeting with the Secretary of State indicated that he did not believe his government would permit further unlawful taking of American life at sea.

While the German government is defending the sinking of the Lusitania and not admitting that its course at sea has been unlawful, it is believed to be telling its submarine commanders to observe the right of visit and search and to give persons on merchant steamers a chance to take to the boats.

It is believed that the German government does not wish to inflame America to the point of war by another Lusitania disaster.

EASY TO ANSWER AUSTRIA.

Citizens of the United States May Sell Where They Please

Washington, July 17.—The United States will send a note to Austria, informing her that the view of this government is that she has no right to demand the cessation, or even abridgment, of the rights of citizens of the United States to sell munitions of war to any belligerent.

It has been determined already by the State Department that the reply to Austria and to Turkey, if she should make common proest with Austria, will contain a statement of the position of this government as formulated at the beginning of the war by the State Department.

That position, it is believed in the department, was framed by the present Secretary of State, Mr. Lansing, when he was counsellor of the department. The statement read:

"In the first place, it should be understood that, generally speaking, a citizen of the United States can sell to a belligerent government or its agent any article of commerce which he pleases. He is not prohibited from doing this by any rule of international law by any treaty provisions, or by any statute of the United States. It makes no difference whether the articles sold are exclusively for war purposes, such as firearms, explosives, etc., or are foodstuffs, colthing, horses, etc., for the use of the army or navy of the belligerent.

"Furthermore, a neutral government is not completed by international law, by treaty or by statute to prevent these sales to a belligerent. Such sales, therefore, by American citizens do not in the least affect the neutrality of the United States."

The State Department, however, is also on record as advising all foreign nations that contraband shipped from the United States is always subject to seizure "by the enemy of the purchasing government."

BERNSTORFF'S PROPOSALS

German Ambassador Hold Conference With Secretary Lansing

Secretary of State Lansing yesterday listened to the following informal proposals by the German Ambassador in the course of a conference at the State Department lasting an hour.

First—That the United States permit diplomatic exchanges over Germany's submarine warfare to continue for the present without definite conclusion.

Second—That the United States accept oral assurance that lives and property of neutral Americans traveling on the high seas would receive the consideration due under international law.

Third—That the government of the United States definitely offer its service in an effort to mediate between Great Britain and Germany with a view to mutual concessions looking to the re-establishment of the freedom of the seas.

The Secretary expressed his interest in what the Ambassador had to communicate and promised to convey the latter's views to the President. He could not commit himself however, on any essential point.

SINKING OF LUSITANIA

Official Declaration that Ship Was Torpedoed Wantonly

London, July 17—That the Lusitania was torpedoed "not merely with intention of sinking the ship, but also of destroying human lives," was the official finding today of Lord Mersey, who presided at the board of trade inquiry.

Lord Mersey held the German charge that the Lusitania was armed, that she carried masked guns and trained gunners and that she was being used as a troop transport had been proven utterly untrue.

"The Lusitania, the evidence showed, carried a number of cases of cartridges which were duly manifested, but no other explosives," read the official finding. "She carried nothing which might have been construed as in violation of United States laws"

Lord Mersey further found that the liner was torpedoed without warning and that none of the passengers was given the slightest opportunity to escape.

FIGHT BATTLES ABOVE CLOUDS

Italian Troops Captured and Hold Famous Pass in The Alps

STORMED FAIZAREGO

Drive Austrians Soldiers Down 7,000 Feet—Artillery Duels on the Tyrolese.

Rome, July 17—Battling nearly 7,000 feet above the sea level, a detachment of gallant Italian Alpine troops surprised the Austrians holding the summit of Falzaergo Pass, a supposedly impregnable position, and captured it. This information is contained in an official statement given out by the Italian general staff.

The Italians are strongly fortifying all positions captured from the Austrians. Trenches are being excavated to mount heavy guns. Many places along the frontier have been transformed into trenched camps strongly garrisoned and with immense supplies of munitions.

Terrific storms continue in the high mountain region. Violent winds, hail and even snow are delaying military operations, but the troops are engaged in fortifying dominant points.

Falzarego Pass, which is a position of the greatest strategical importance, lies in the Tyrolese Alps, between six and seven miles west of Cortina D'Ampezzo. The summit lies 6,945 feet above the sea level. To the southwest appears the snow-covered Marmolatta, with the distant Palia di San Martino and the Civetta to the left; in the foreground to the right is the Col di Lana. Falzarego Pass has long been a favorite spot for tourists in the Tyrolese Alps, on account of the ruggedness of the scenery.

London, July 17—The German submarine U-51 has been sunk in the Black Sea by Russian warships, according to information received from Varna, a Bulgarian port on the Black Sea, by the Athens correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company.

It is estimated that since the war began the Germans have lost at least 30 submarines. The number may run as high as 35. This includes those sunk and those lost by accident.

AMERICAN HELD IN BERLIN

G. S. Speets, Who Had U. S. Passport, Arrested

Berlin, July 17—George S. Speets, an American, and understood to represent American copper interests, was arrested here on Tuesday and is held at police headquarters on charges that have not been divulged.

Speets, who has an American passport and who maintained an office for general brokerage business, had been under police surveillance for several months. Some doubt exists as to his citizenship, and Ambassador Gerard has started an investigation regarding the manner in which Speets had obtained an American passport. The Ambassador also has communicated with the German authorities on the subject.

Washington, July 17—The State Department records show that George S. Speet applied to the American Embassy at Berlin for an American passport as a New York importer on April 1 and that the passport was issued at the citizenship bureau here on April 17. He said that he was born at Winter, Cal., and that his father was a native American.

HIGH TEMPERATURE

Heavy Shower Yesterday Afternoon Fails to Bring Cooler Conditions Hereabouts.

The weather during the present week has been hot, but not unusually so for the month of July. The rain and hail storm of last Tuesday night lowered the temperature for awhile, but sultry conditions soon reappeared. A heavy cloud gathered over this city between three and four o'clock yesterday afternoon. There was a high wind for a few minutes, but it caused no serious damage, except a few telephones which were put out of commission, and later there was a refreshing rainfall. After the heavens cleared the heat wave resumed its sway, and last night was warm.

While yesterday's storm was by no means severe in this city, it assumed alarming aspects in other places in this section of the country. In Washington the wind blew nearly fifty miles an hour and the lightning at times caused apprehension, the electric fluid striking in several places. No one was injured, however, although some damage is reported.

The same storm struck Baltimore, where high winds prevailed together with vivid lightning and heavy thunder. The lightning struck a street and split trees in different parts of the city. Hail fell near the monumental city which damaged crops.

The present wave overspreads Virginia. The mercury in the thermometer in Richmond registered 97 degrees yesterday. High temperatures are reported in Norfolk, Lynchburg, and other cities.

EXCITING RUNAWAY.

Horse Attached to Wagon Takes Flight And Makes Wild Dash up King Stret.

A horse attached to a wagon belonging to Edward Quinn and in charge of Milton Wilson, colored, became frightened near the intersection of King and Alfred streets between two and three o'clock yesterday afternoon and ran west on King street. The frighted animal carried the vehicle in a zigzag line, causing pedestrians to scurry in front of it. When near West street the horse was running towards an automobile in which several persons were seated, but when it was within a few feet of the auto the horse turned to the left and barely missed striking it. When the frightened animal reached West street it ran the wagon into a tree box in front of James Kelley's saloon, overturning it, and came to a halt. The driver escaped injury, but the horse was hurt by the collision receiving a wound across the chest, when it fell and struck the curbing.

Officers Roberts was nearby when the horse ran away, and he followed it up King street until it was brought to a halt. He summoned Doctor Beach who took charge of the injured animal.

He will be assisted by Mrs. Janet Pickett of Alexandria, and Mr. Ricardo Zappone of Washington in the following program:

Home Sweet Home, Dudley Buck.

Song, Gloria, Mr. Zappone, Buzzi-Peccia.

Marche Militaire. Gounod.

The musical offerings of the Alexandria Churches for the sumpner season are being greatly enjoyed and appreciated by the members of the various congregations. Choirs in the different churches every Sunday are singing offertorys and anthems beautiful in composition and in rendition and the general character of the musical programs taking place in the morning and evening services of the local churches are hardly excelled by those of much bigger and more famous choirs. The duet sung at St. Paul's Church at the last Sunday morning service, by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Witmarl, was well enjoyed by every one in the pews and the organ rectial at Christ Church tomorrow night is expected to be excellent rendered.

HERE'S PROOF.

An Alexandrian Citizen Tells of His Experience.

You have a right to doubt statements of people living far away but can you doubt Alexandria endorsement?

Walter C. Dameron, 325 N. Columbus St., Alexandria, says: "My back hurt so badly that often I had to lay off from work. After I got down, I couldn't straighten up again without sharp pains catching me across my kidneys. There was hardly a night passed that my back didn't ache. My kidneys acted too freely and during the night had to get up every little while. When morning came, I felt so tired and weak that I could hardly drag myself out of bed. I doctored and tried different medicines, but got no better until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Henry Callan's Drug Store. I took about six boxes in all and since then I have had but little trouble from my kidneys and have felt like a different person."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Dameron had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

NURSERY STORIES OF OTHER DAYS.

People in every age of the world prefer to believe the marvelous. There are many who still credit stories concerning mermaids and sea serpents, while some are not so sure genii of the Orient are mythical beings. It is an amusing pastime to pick up old prints which give pictures of set serpents measuring between two and three hundred feet intercepting ships on the ocean, pushing their heads into the cabins or forecastles and carrying off men.

The notion that outrang otangs visit African villages and carry off women is still an article of faith with some. Those who have visited the Eden Musee in New York will remember a figure representing one of these horrible parodies on the human race with a white woman in its grasp. All her clothes have been torn from he body and she is bleeding from many wounds inflicted by the claws of the brute. It is unnecessary to say no such things ever happened.

Stories of eagles carrying off children are believed to be equally absurd. Any persons who has isspected a South American condor, probably the most powerful of the winged creation, will naturally wonder how such a creature could rise in the air with a child weighing twice as much as the bird. The following story is now going round:

"For all the progress made by man in his conquest of the air, especially since the beginning of the European war, the birds are still the masters of the unchanted heights. The Swiss and Austrian inhabitants on the frontier of the Voralberg have just had a striking example of this brought home to them.

"A farm worker engaged in cutting hay on the slope of the Gamp Alp, a mountain some 6,000 feet high, near the Swiss-Austrian boundary line, brought his child to the field with him and placed the three and a half-year-old-youngster under a bush while he set about his hay-making.

"Some two hours later he returned to the place, but could not find the child. He searched high and low, fearing he might have mistaken the bush in the shade of which he had left his offspring, but could find no trace of the infant. Beside himself with anxiety, he hurried to the nearest village and reported the circumstance to the police, who sent out a general alarm.

"Several days later, some chamois hunters of the district, having learned of the loss of the child, reported that they had seen an eagle flying over them, carrying something heavy. The conclusion was reached that the eagle's burden must have been the missing child."

THE CASE OF JEAN PAUL MARAT.

Today is the anniversary of the killing of Jean Paul Marat while he was in a bath tub in which he spent most of his latter days, he being the victim of a torturing skin disease he contracted by living in cellars and sewers during the French Revolution. He was stabbed to death by Charlotte Corday, who was beheaded for her deed.

There is more than one side to the history of this individual. He is generally painted as one of the blood thirsty fiends thrown to the surface during the reign of terror in Paris. He was undoubtedly of that genus, but not one of the illiterate wearers of the cap and blouse who shed the blood of so many innocent people. He was a native of Switzerland and was of a good family. He was given a good education and his mind was of a scientific trend. He was acquainted with medicine and for a time practiced that profession nad mingled with philosophers in his day. He was also an author.

With Robespierre and Danton he was one of the triumvirate which for a time ruled France, although he was a politician without a party. He never hesitated to cast his thunder against Girondists and Jacobins alike when their acts or principles did not agree with his own hallucinatons.

Marat was as little concerned over personal comforts or what he ate or drank or wherewithal he should be clothed as was Rodin, the Jesuit secretary in the "Wandering Jew."

Often forced to get into the shade by the capricious elements around him, he at times lived in cellars and sewers, existing upon the most frugal fare.

Charlotte Corday believed she was acting pro bono publico in ridding France of one she regarded as a fiend. While her act was not appreciated at the time, posterity has applauded her deed.

VIRGINIA MAKES RAPID STRIDES.

Another stride forward in exports was registered during the week ending July 10 by the Virginia customs district, of which Norfolk and Newport News are the principal ports.

According to a statement made by the Virginia-Pilot, of Norfolk, New York led the 13 principal exporting districts as always, with a total of $19,000,000 for the week, but Virginia, with $3,794,650, was far in the lead for second honors, being over $600,000 ahead of Detroit, the headquarters of the Michigan district, which came third.

Philadelphia and Baltimore were seventh and eighth respectively, in rank amonk the thirteen ports whose combined total aggregated 90 per cent of the country's exports for the week and the Virginia district approximately equaled the combined showing of both Philadelphia and Baltimore.

If the Virginia district were to maintain the same rate throughout the year as last week, its annual total would be over $200,000,000 of exports.

ENGLAND IS FACING A CRISIS.

The strike of over one hundred and fifty thousand miners in Wales is causing the greatest distress in Great Britain. Should the men refuse to return to work the wheels of commerce will be brought to a standstill during the next few days, as it is estimated that the coal supply will have been exhausted by this time next week. Railroad traffic will cease while steamships will be unable to run. The operations of the British navy will also be brought to a standstill. The workmen are openly violating what is known as the munition act, which makes it a penalty to strike under present conditions. While defying the laws of the land, no attempts are made to enforce them.

Curran or Burke once said "It is impossible to indict a community." This is apparent, especially at this time.

Floods yesterday that raced through the towns and cities in central Ohio, following torrential rains of Thursday night, took a toll of four lives and caused a property damage estimated at more than $2,000,000. Hundreds of acres of land are under water and vast areas are imperilled by weak levees and embankments. Lima, where three of the lives were lost, is probably the worst sufferer of any Ohio city. More than 1,500 are homeless and the property loss is more than half a million dollars.

Some officials in Washington regard as a remarkable coincidence the receipt of the German memorandum acknowledging responsibility for the attack on the American steamship Nebraskan at the very time that experts from this government had completed an investigation to determine whether the attack was made with a torpedo. Pieces of metal found in the damaged hull of the Nebraskan were examined by naval experts here. The conclusion reached was that not only was the Nebraskan torpedoed, but that it was a German torpedo which struck her.

Two women were shot dead, two persons were wounded and the slayer, John Lester Beverly, a Buchanan, W. The dead are Mrs. Stella Beverly, wife of the murderer, and Miss Martha Harris. Beverly just before he lapsed into unconsciousness said his wife was conducting a disorderly house. Boiling with rage he procured a revolver, went to the house and tried to persuade Mrs. Beverly to return home with him. She and others in the house, he declared, tried to throw him out, whereupon he opened fire upon all.

The machinists of Bridgeport, Conn., by a unanimous vote last night declared for a general strike should the Remington Arms Company decline to meet their demands. In connection with intimation that some German influence was behind the strike agitation, a rumor gained circulation in Bridgeport yesterday that Ernest O'Brien, until recently business agent of the bricklayers' union, had been offered a sum of money just prior to a strike six weeks ago if he would use his influence to have the bricklayers working at the Remington plant walk out. O'Brien admitted that he had been approached twice on the subject. He said he was offered $200 on each occasion if he would use his influence and he turned down both offers.

ALEXANDRIA COUNTY NOTES.

(From the Commonwealth)

Pat Lee, a negro laborer living at Hall's Hill, was shot Wednesday night and is in Georgetown Hospital in a critical condition with a wound through his chest near the right nipple. His wife, Elizabeth Lee, is in Alexandria county jail charged with the shooting. If the husband dies, the wife will be tried for murder. The shooting followed a quarrel over Sarah Brown, a negro woman who had been living in the Lee home with Theodore Williams, a son of Mrs. Lee by a previous marriage. Lee was dissatisfied with the relations between the two, and demanded that the Brown woman be sent away. Mrs. Lee objected to this, and as a result of the angry discussion which continued late into the night, Mrs. Lee, about 2 o'clock in the morning, fired at her husband through the door of the house. He had just thrown her through the door into the yard. Sarah Brown and Theodore Williams were also put under arrest and are held in jail to await developments as witnesses or accomplices, as the facts may show.

The regular monthly meeting of the Alexandria County Equal Suffrage league was held at the club rooms on Tuesday afternoon. Owing to the difference in policy between the National Association and the Congressional Union the league decided to resign from the National organization and to work as an independent body.

County Clerk George H. Rucker, who has been sick for some time, is at Georgetown University Hospital for an operation to be performed some day next week. There is little apprehension felt about the result

London, July 17.—The Government has ordered three members of the Sinn Fein—Ernest Blythe, of Ennistimon; Willaim Mallows of Athenry, and H. J. Pim, of Belfast—to leave Ireland. The immediate cause of their expulsion is believed to be their campaign from public platforms against war and recruiting.

All of the trio were active in the Sinn Fein section of volunteers that broke away and opposed the followers of John E. Redmond, the leader of the Irish Nationalists in the House of Commons. Pim had written books under the name of A. Newman.
